Competition

Open

All 16 participants compete in the first round, Round 1 in the so-called Main event. Round 1 consists of 4 heats with 4 surfers per heat. 1st and 2nd in the respective heat advances to the next round etc. As long as you come 1st or 2nd in a heat in the Main event you are left in the Main event and finally reaches the final. The 3rd and 4th in the respective heat goes on to so-called recharge where you can surf to a place in the B-finals which in turn can give a place in the final. In the finals, 4 surfers compete.

Ladies

All 8 participants compete in the first round, Round 1 in the so-called Main event. Round 1 consists of 2 heats with 4 surfers per heat. 1st and 2nd in the respective heat advances to the next round etc. As long as you come 1st or 2nd in a heat in the Main event you are left in the Main event and finally reaches the final. The 3rd and 4th in the respective heat goes on to so-called recharge where you can surf to a place in the B-finals which in turn can give a place in the final. In the finals, 4 surfers compete.

Competition heat

A competition heat, whether final or not, as follows.

In the classes Open and lady, each heat is 15 minutes long. In the youth class, each heat is 10 minutes long. Before the heat starts, the competition management by lot has determined the order of the competitors participating in the heat.

Surfer # 1 gets to surf the wave for a maximum of 30 seconds. Speaker shouts when time starts and when it is 5 seconds left (countdown 5,4,3,2,1,0). Surfers step off the wave.

Surfers no. 2, 3 and 4 surf the wave in turn for a maximum of 30 seconds each. Then it's the surfer #1's turn again etc.

If every surfer is in his 30 seconds, you can have 30 rides in 15 minutes (applies to Open and Dam), which means about 7 rides per competitor. But when surfers stretch their limits to perform well on the scale, it is very common for surfers not to stand on the wave more than about 10-20 seconds before they fall. In practice, therefore, every surfer gets about 10 waves each during a competition heat. It is a very high pace in the competition as there is no time for longers between the surfing waves. However, some delay may occur to be able to have a high security if a surfer falls and has difficulty getting out of the pool for any reason or if a surfboard gets stuck in the pool. The next competitor must not jump on his wave until the one who has been on the wave before (including surfboard) is out of the pool and the speaker / competition management has given the go-ahead.

Information meeting on competition arrangements and assessment criteria

Time: Friday at 19:00 or Saturday at 10:00 (same information on both occasions)

Location: Himlabadet at the surf stream

Judging criteria (also see document "Surfing Judging criteria")

Judging and scores goes exactly the same as competitions in real sea waves.

Judges review each surfer's performance on each individual wave based on given assessment criteria.

Points are set based on a 10-point scale where 0.5 points = worst and 10 points = best.

The judges' points are summed up to a total and then divided by the number of judges.

Surfers get points on every single wave, but in the end may only be credited with the two waves where the judge gave the highest score. The score of these two waves is summed up and the surfer who has the highest score wins the heat. The surfer who has the second highest total score on his two best waves comes second in the heat, etc.

Exemple

Three judges have scored the following points on four waves that a competitor surfed during a heat.

Judge 1: Wave 1 = 1.5p. Wave 2 = 8.0p. Wave 3 = 4.0p. Wave 4 = 10.0p

Judge 2: Wave 1 = 2.0p. Wave 2 = 7.0p. Wave 3 = 4.5p. Wave 4 = 9.5p

Judge 3: Wave 1 = 1.0p. Wave 2 = 7.0p. Wave 3 = 5.0p. Wave 4 = 10.0p.

Average wave 1: $1.5 + 2.0 + 1.0 = 4.5 / 3 = 1.5$

Average wave 2: $8.0 + 7.0 + 7.0 = 22.0 / 3 = 7.33$

Average wave 3: $4.0 + 4.5 + 5.0 = 13.5 / 3 = 4.5$

Average wave 4: $10.0 + 9.5 + 10.0 = 29.5 / 3 = 9.83$

The two waves with the highest score are summed, $7.33 + 9.83 = 17.16$

The surfer's score in the heat is 17,16.

The arena and type of wave

The competition will be conducted at Himlabadet in Sundsvall in the Surfstream.

Open and ladies class: The competition is performed on the high profile right wing wave (the wave breaks to the right) which means that the person surfing with regular stance (left foot at the front of the surfboard) surfing on the toe with the stomach / chest against the wave and the person surfing with goofy stance (right foot at the front of the board) surfing the heel with the back against the wave.

Youth class: To be decided.

Equipment

Himlabadet provides surfboards. Own surfboard may be used but must be equipped with soft fins.

Surfboards must be approved by the competition management before the competition.

Helmets must always be used for safety reasons during heat and training.

Own helmets may be used and must be approved by the competition management before the competition.

Values, policies and anti-doping
